Interactive Charts and Reporting Tools

Suite of 6 Interactive Dashboards:

1. Rare Earth Concentrate Prices

- Attributes and prices of 5 common concentrate types marketed in China
- Concentrate prices vs. refined basket value

2. Rare Earth Oxide and Compound Prices

- Prices of 38 most commonly-traded rare earth oxides and compounds globally
- China domestic and China export prices

3. Rare Earth Metal and Alloy Prices

- Prices of 28 most commonly-traded rare earth metals and alloys globally
- China domestic and China export prices

4. Rare Earth Permanent Magnet Prices

- Prices for 31 different grades of NdFeB
- N, M, H, SH, UH, and EH series grades
- Prices compared with REE input costs

5. Rare Earth Producer and Buyer Indices

- Tracking the value of RE output from the world's largest rare earth producers
- Tracking the value of RE input costs for the most important applications globally

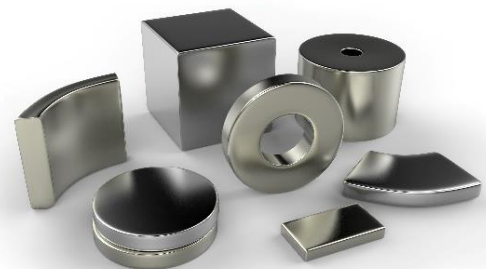

6. Rare Earth Product Price Comparison Tool

- Cross-compare prices and assess trends

This online tracker and visual analytics platform tracks prices of rare earth products globally, including rare earth concentrates, oxides, compounds, metals, alloys, and various grades of permanent magnets. The platform also includes a number of rare earth producer and buyer indices to track the value of mine output and end-use consumption as individual rare earth material prices evolve.

The data we track and analyze is presented through a suite of interactive dashboards that enable the user to quickly visualize trends and drill-down on prices for individual concentrates, oxides, compounds, metals, alloys, magnet grades, and much more.

Spend less time collecting, analyzing, and fact-checking data, and more time making informed decisions.

Essential tool for:

- Automakers and Suppliers
- Motor Manufacturers
- NdFeB Producers and Consumers
- Catalyst Manufacturers and Consumers
- Exploration and Mining Companies
- Informed Investors and Financiers
- Government Agencies
